Chang and Eng.

The story of the wonderful bond that united the Siamese twins together is familiar to our readers; a correspondent of the Golden Era, makes from it the following illustration of the relation between the North and the South, showing the suicidal course of our "misguided brethren," and the necessity for resistance in self defence on the part of the North to the mad project of rebellion:

It is somewhat late in the day, perhaps, to go into an argument as to the merits of the war, but to my mind it may be very well represented by supposing a quarrel between the Siamese twins, Chang and Eng.

Chang being dyspeptic and sullen some morning says to Eng: "I am tired of this ligature which binds us, I am sick and tired of this partnership existing between us. You lecture me because I turn and twist around in a way that makes you uncomfortable, and because the slaves who brush the flies from my brow flirt the fan in your face. You do not like my domestic relations, insinuating that the terms upon which I live with my female slaves reflect upon you who are dragged into the same bed. You get all my sugarcane and sweet things in exchange for the cursed wooden nutmegs and machinery you are always whittling out in your leisure moments. The fact is, Eng, you're a Mudsill and no gentleman; I am much better born than yourself and it is all folly to talk of our having had a common mother—true, we nursed at the same breast and at the same time, but a stern-faced Puritan begot you, while I call a laughing Cavalier father. As for this bond between us about which such fuss is made all the world over, it's not a natural one, but some confounded tinkering done by those that stood around and assisted at the birth. In short I'm tired of it, and here goes to cut it!"

This wakes Eng up. True he has been a rather easy, sleep sort of a fellow, and had got so much accustomed to Chang's threats and grumblings that he did n't much heed them, but when he sees the knife in Chang's hand, and feels the sharp pain of the first cut at the ligature, he seizes hold of his hand and says: "No, hold! don't cut!" Chang persists and slashes away, crying, "Let me alone! I will cut it!!"

To which Eng simply replies: "I'll be damned if you shall!" Seizes his hand, endeavors to disarm him, and, finding this a difficult task, deals him a buffet or two between the eyes to make him quiet.

All this while Chang is wildly shrieking: "All I want is to be let alone!" But he never drops his hold on the knife once, or abates his attempts to cut loose and bleed both himself and Eng to death.

And fools across the water clap their hands in admiration of Chang, and ask Eng if he isn't ashamed to be fighting and "coercing" his brother. Eng doesn't reply, but he mentally resolves to have a turn with outsiders when he gets through with Chang.

Maj. John Owen.—We have been requested to publish the following letter just received from Major Owen, and trust and believe from what we have known of him for many years, that the accusation alluded to by us on Saturday has no other foundation than political calumny. We confess that it is a mortifying—an infernal shame, that in this country, and especially on this coast, as soon as the name of any man is suggested for a public position, it is at once declared that he has been guilty of part or all the crimes forbidden in the Decalogue. His purity of character is no protection, but if he seems to stand in the way of any party or any faction, he is assailed with the ferocity of tigers. Blackguards and liars revel in their abuse of those better than themselves, and even when their accusations are proved to be utterly false, with hypocritic sneers they hide themselves behind their pretended care of the public good. We repeat, we hope and believe there is no ground for the severe report which has been circulated concerning Major Owen:

Fort Owen, I. T., Sept. 21, 1863.

Dear Arrigoni: * * * I curse the day I ever left my peaceful mountain avocations to become a public man. The foul breath of slander will, I fear, tarnish the fair name I once felt proud to possess. A public man is a target for public calumny of the most virulent and malignant nature. I would not give one moment of peace and quiet for the most exalted public position in the gift of the people. I will try and visit Portland again this fall and wind up my business affairs there. My kind regards to all mutual friends. Fraternally yours,

John Owen.

Coming to their Senses.—The following extract, brief as sensible, from the Richmond Whig, is the most sensible secesh item we have clipped since the rebellion. Wonder how the Copperheads, who are directly opposed to "subjugation," like it? The Whig says:

> If it was right that the United States should make war upon us, it is right not only that it should be waged until we lay down our arms, but also until we are brought to a condition that will render a renewal of the struggle impossible.

The Loyalty of California Volunteers.—The Red Bluff Independent says that the vote of the soldiers of that State, so far as heard from, is as follows: Low, 4,036; Downey, 140—majority for Low, 3,896. The "Democratic" volunteers appear to be pretty unanimous on the question of sustaining the Government. We presume, though, that the Copperhead papers which claimed all the volunteers as good Democrats one year ago will now call them "Lincoln hirelings." Is the bitter opposition to soldier's voting which has lately shown itself to be marveled at?

The Regular and Volunteer Service.

The Army Register for 1863 has not yet been published, but authentic information in regard to the regular army, up to August, shows many changes and other data of interest to the public. Previous to the outbreak of the rebellion, Gen. Scott was for several years the only full Major General, three others being Major Generals by brevet—Wool, Twiggs and Smith. The list of Major Generals now stands as follows: Geo. B. McClellan, John C. Fremont, Henry W. Halleck, Ulysses S. Grant, with one vacancy. Within the past year Major General Wool has been retired.

The list of Brigadier Generals in the regular army is now as follows: Irwin McDowell, Robert Anderson, Wm. S. Rosecrans, Philip St. George Cooke, John Pope, Joseph Hooker, George G. Meade, with two vacancies. Of these, McDowell, Rosecrans, Hooker and Meade are Major Generals of volunteers. Within the past year Brigadier General Harney has been retired, and it is reported that Gen. Cooke has been summoned before the Retiring Board.

The regular army, in addition to the above grades, now consists of an Adjutant General's Department, with Brig. Gen. Lorenzo Thomas at the head; a Judge Advocate General's Department, with Col. Joseph Holt at the head; an Inspector General's Department, a Quartermaster's Department, a Subsistence Department, a Medical Department, a Pay Department, and an Ordnance Department; a Corps of Engineers; six cavalry, five artillery, and nineteen infantry regiments.

There are now seventy-one Major Generals of Volunteers, and one hundred and ninety-four Brigadier Generals.

The army corps are now commanded as follows: 1st, Gen. John Newton; 2d, Gen. Winfield S. Hancock; 3d, Gen. Daniel E. Sickles; 4th, consolidated with others; 5th, Gen. George Sykes; 6th, Gen. John Sedgwick; 7th, consolidated with others; 8th, Gen. Robert C. Schenck; 9th, Gen. John G. Park; 10th, Gen. Quincy A. Gilmore; 11th, Gen. Oliver O. Howard; 12th, Gen. Henry W. Slocum; 13th, Gen. E. O. C. Ord; 14th, Gen. George H. Thomas; 15th, Gen. Walter T. Sherman; 16th, Gen. Stephen A. Hurlbut; 17th, Gen. James B. Macpherson; 18th, Gen. John G. Foster; 19th, Gen. N. P. Banks; 20th, Gen. Alex. McDowell McCook; 21st, Gen. Thomas L. Crittenden; 22d, Gen. Samuel P. Heintzelman; 23d, Gen. George L. Hartsuff; cavalry corps, Gen. Stoneman.

The following is the present list of the military geographical departments and their commanders:

Department of the Tennessee—Major Gen. U. S. Grant.

Department of the Cumberland—Major Gen. W. S. Rosecrans.

Department of the Ohio—Major Gen. A. E. Burnside.

Department of New England—Major Gen. John A. Dix.

Department of the Gulf—Major Gen. N. P. Banks.

Dep't of North Carolina, } Major Gen. J.
Dep't of Virginia, } G. Foster.

Department of the Northwest—Major Gen. John Pope.

Department of Washington—Major Gen. S. P. Heintzelman.

Department of the Monongahela—Major Gen. W. T. H. Brooks.

Department of the Susquehanna—Major Gen. Darius M. Couch.

Department of West Virginia—Brig. Gen. B. F. Kelley.

Department of New Mexico—Brig. Gen, James H. Carleton.

Department of the Pacific—Brig. Gen. George Wright.

Department of Key West—Brig. Gen. J. M. Brannan.

Department of Kansas—Major Gen. James G. Blunt.

Middle Department—Major Gen. Robert C. Schenck.

Department of the South—Brig. Gen. Q. A. Gilmore.

Department of Missouri—Major Gen. John M. Schofield.

Toombs on the Rebellion. — The Washington Chronicle has received the Georgia Constitutionalist of the 24th of August, containing a letter from Robert Toombs, late Senator of the United States, and late rebel Secretary of State, which furnishes undoubted and startling evidence of the utter bankruptcy and failure of the Confederacy. He boldly exposes the wickedness and corruption of the managers of the bogus government, and says that the whole rebellion is rotten, useless and wicked. The laws are weak and the rulers oppressive, and a starving community are impoverished and plundered. In the letter the following remarkable paragraph occurs:

"Can I say more to oppose the boundless folly of our present financial system? The history of the currency of our enemies, since the beginning of this war, is humiliating to us. Either had foreign credits. Both had powerful and established State Governments to back them. We were united in favor of the war. They were divided. They have kept twice the number of men in the field that we have, upon half the money, and paid their soldiers better than we have. Their treasury notes sell at a discount of less than thirty per cent.; ours at more than ONE THOUSAND. The reason is solely that their Government has better understood and more firmly adhered to the true principles of currency than ours. In all else we had the advantage."

Toombs proceeds, and says that taxation, rigid comprehension and loans, are the only ways by which sound currency can be obtained. He thus concludes:

"We must act, and that quickly. The public interest and public safety will no longer allow delay. Our present system is utterly insupportable. It is upsetting the very foundations of private rights; daily weakening public confidence in our cause at home and abroad; sowing among the people dangerous discontents, which are daily deepening and widening. Patriotism demands that all good men should unite to correct this evil."

The Homestead Act.—As there seems to be quite a misunderstanding as to the bearing of the Homestead Act upon the rights of pre-emptors under former acts, we have obtained the following information from the Commissioner of the General Land Office, upon which all the decisions of that office are based. When a party has made an actual location, by pre-emption or otherwise, in virtue of a bounty land warrant, he cannot lift the land warrant and enter under the Homestead Act, because, having elected to satisfy his claim to a specific tract of land by locating a warrant, he must abide by his own act. A pre-emptor who has filed a declaratory patent cannot convert his pre-emption into a homestead claim. A proviso in the sixth section of the Homestead Law of May 20, 1862, is specific on this point, in declaring that all persons have a right to make the exchange if they have filed their declaratory patents prior to the passage of the act of May 20, 1862. Where the parties have filed since the passage of the law, they have no right to make the exchange, and consequently when any person abandons his pre-emption, the land is freely open to the first homestead settler that may apply for it.—New York Tribune.

A Voice From Vicksburg.—At a recent war mass meeting in Harrisburg, Pa., Col. F. Montgomery, formerly editor of the Vicksburg Whig, and a supporter of Breckinridge in 1860, made an ardently patriotic speech in which, among other things, he said:

The rebellion was devised solely to gratify a very small number—twenty or twenty-five very ambitious men. When the rebellion broke out there were not twenty-five secessionists in Vicksburg. He was a Democrat then, he was now, and no Northern secession sympathizer could whip him out of it.—[Laughter.] Last campaign, down in his place, they had nothing to talk about but black Republicans, and when Lincoln was elected it was Abolitionists, and that word heated the Southerners' blood to rebellion. It was a bugbear, somewhat like it is in the North. The Unionists were disorganized, but when New Orleans was taken thousands of planters came in to know how many bales of how much tonnage could be had to load with cotton, that it might be floated to New Orleans; but an order came to fortify Vicksburg, and that dodge was knocked in the head; yet those hearts are still beating as truly as ever for the old Union. (Cheers.) When he came North he found the people disunited, and he wanted to know the reason; the Constitution was the difficulty. When a shell lands in my prison, to burst its doors for my liberation, what do I care who sent it? whether it was constitutional or not. You folks North seem to know more than any one else about the Constitution. I never heard that the Emancipation Proclamation was unconstitutional till I came North. No odds how we do it, provided we do it in a civilized manner. In these times, if it is proved of a candidate that his great grandfather once made an Abolition speech, he was sure to be defeated. "He (the speaker) had several little boys, and he was going to blast their political prospects by making a deliberate Abolition speech. From Breckinridge to free speech he had got rather ahead. He was now a red hot Abolitionist. [Cheers.] The speaker then spoke of slavery as a curse to the land. It retarded civilization, made the earth barren, and has at last culminated in a hell born rebellion. Whenever you make it respectable to come down with us and follow the plow, bring your school houses and churches. We will have the position which God Almighty intended we should hold. His description of the bombardment of Vicksburg was highly interesting and amusing. Rebellion is near its end. The only consolation, the only aid and assistance Jeff. Davis receives is drawn from the North and its one cent patriots. It is now not so much our bullets as our ballots that are to settle the rebellion. When the war is over, the Union men of the South will settle the final question—what are you going to do? They don't want Mississippi or any other State to rebel and fight just when she pleases, and after getting whipped to be pardoned. Keep on the war until secessionists cry enough. Then demand your terms for peace. He ridiculed Ben. Wood's peace measures. The best thing Pennsylvania can do to prevent the niggers from coming here, if she don't want them, is to stick to the emancipation, giving them freedom in the South. The Union men of the South are now sustaining it.

English Neutrality Explained.—In the article entitled "Our Colonial System," in the July number of the London Quarterly Review, page 69, is the following paragraph, showing the honesty of English neutrality:

"One most striking instance of the Imperial benefits derivable from a colony—a colony, too, which could under no circumstances adequately defend itself—is furnished by the now noted Bahamas. We believe we may justly estimate at millions of pounds sterling the value of the commerce, which, through this medium, has been carried on within the last two years between England and the Southern States. Nassau has, in fact, supplemented the ports of Liverpool, Bristol, Cardiff and Glasgow. The vigilance of a belligerent force has been in a great degree neutralized by the convenient contiguity of this obscure little harbor to the blockaded harbors of Charleston and Savannah. Half the advantages of the existing trade between England and the Confederate States, England owes to this little community of Bahamian wreckers and storekeepers. Without its aid the English goods shipped to the South, and Southern cotton shipped to England, could in no instance have escaped capture. No cost of military defense could be considered as too great for the maintenance of a colony enjoying so advantageous a position."

Doctors Differ.—James Lannon of Chicago, whose letter to Jeff. Davis was among the captured correspondence of the rebel President, says:

The Republicans now think that the South will slough off with all the political diseases that afflict the country, and will then leave them in the full enjoyment of all the vitality the nation has, while the reverse is the fact. The South will take with it all the vital political force of the country, leaving the North with its political diseases.

The letter whence the above is taken was written in January, 1861. A communication from a gentleman "high in position" in Secessia, written within the past two months, and sent by a blockade runner via Nassau, takes a different view of this matter. It says:

Certainly our country is at present a wreck. It is considered generally that we have a weaker set of men in our Government heads and Congress than ever was in our old Government or in the old Congress; and certainly ours are no less corrupt."

Well Answered.—The Nashville Union replying to a contemptuous remark of a Copperhead paper that "Sambo is getting to be of great importance in the later days," says:

The negro has been of great importance for more than a generation. He has enabled a few aristocrats to rule the Nation He has given the cotton States all their importance. He has caused one foreign and one civil war already, and has become at last "the chief corner stone of the Southern Confederacy." Who will deny Sambo's importance.

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE DAILY OREGONIAN

LATER FROM THE EAST.

Dates to October 14.

Curtin's Majority, so far, 21,700.

Brough's Majority, 41,100.

7,088 Union Majority in Iowa.

New York, Oct. 14th.—A special to the World, speaking of military matters, says the rebels have abandoned the apparent purpose of flanking our army on the Potomac. It looks as though the late movement was a cover to some military demonstration on their part elsewhere. All quiet in front yesterday.

The following to the Herald indicates the position of the armies in Virginia:

Headquarters Army of Potomac, Oct. 13. The trains have all come in safely and in excellent order. Kilpatrick and Buford have also arrived at the river and are in line of battle. Our forces are now in position to contest the advance of the enemy who appear to be in force south of the river.

Washington, Oct. 14.—Messengers from the front, report that yesterday there was considerable skirmishing on the right, while in the centre and on the left was occasional picket firing.

It is reported that Gorman's division of cavalry which had a severely contested fight on Monday at White Sulphur Springs was compelled to fall back in consequence of not being properly supported by infantry and lost a number of men, among them being 50 of the 1st New Jersey.

New York, Oct. 14.—Sterling firm at 169½; Gold unsettled closing at 154½@155.

The Washington correspondent of the Advertiser says from some reason (certainly not because there is any bad news) the War Department resumed its control over the telegraph for the transmission of intelligence bearing on the rebel or Federal position in Virginia.

Easton, Pa., Oct., 13.—The following are Woodward's majorities:

Wayne county, 550, loss, 391; Cumberland, 600, loss 244; Berks, 6,000; Carpin, 500, loss 200; Bucks 400, loss 300; Lehigh, complete, 1,668, loss 256; Susquehannah gives Curtin 1,700 majority a gain of 504.

Philadelphia. Oct. 14th.—Forney's Press figures up Curtin's majority 21,700 with 41 counties to hear from, which in 1861 gave Curtin over 50,000 majority.

Cincinnati, Oct. 13th.—39 counties give Brough 41,100 majority.

Chicago, Oct. 14th.—26 counties in Iowa give Stone, Union, 7,088.

Fever and Ague is speedily cured by Dr Osgood's India Cholagogue. The sallow complexion and jaundiced eye which often precede its attacks, are in a few days entirely removed. The health of thousands has been perfectly restored by this medicine when other remedies have failed. Its operation is not simply to suspend the disease for a time, but to purify the system and restore it to sound and perfect health. A small treatise on the "Causes, Treatment and Cure of Fever and Ague, and other Diseases of Billous Climates," may be had gratis of the Agent. Beware of other Cholagogues! Dr Osgood's is the original and only genuine preparation.

The Festival this Evening.—We hope none of our readers will forget or neglect the entertainment provided by the Ladies' Sanitary Aid Society, at the vestry of the Presbyterian church. The object, as all must admit, is one well worthy of the most cordial support of the whole community, and surely, the generous and faithful efforts of the officers and members of the Society, in endeavoring to procure means to alleviate the toilsome and bitter sufferings of the brave and patriotic soldiers, who are fighting for the life of our free institutions, and who from the nature of the long protracted contest, must yet for many months, continue to suffer and to need assistance, earnestly merit the hearty co-operation and patronage of all. The contribution of money seems to be the most effectual mode in which the people of this coast, can render aid, and though their donations have been most munificent, challenging the admiration and wonder of the whole land, and filling the hearts of the army with profound and sincere gratitude, yet so long as battles and sickness and suffering threaten and afflict the defenders of our liberties, there must be no cessation of liberal exertions in this behalf. Let us not be unmindful of this to-night, but by generously assisting the ladies of this city in their labor of duty and of charity, let us secure for ourselves the gratified consciousness that we have done something—though but little—more for the unselfish men who have sacrificed the comforts and the joys of home, and have offered their lives in behalf of their country—in behalf of us and our children.

Drunks.—Judging from the number of inebriates who "moved at pace unsteady and with steps oblique" through out streets yesterday, we should suppose that "tangle-leg" had recently "declined" in this market.

Gold Dust.—Wells, Fargo & Co. brought down some two hundred pounds of gold dust on the steamer Wilson G. Hunt, last evening.

Snow on the Foot Hills.—From Purser Day, of the steamer Hunt, we learn that the hills in the vicinity of the Cascades were covered with snow yesterday. "Positively its first appearance this season."

Late.—The Overland stage from the south did not arrive last night until twelve o'clock.

Willamette Theatre. — "Adrienne, the Actress," was well received by a good house last evening. The characters were admirably sustained throughout, and the leading performers evinced a thorough knowledge and due appreciation of the play. The entertainment closed with the favorite farce of "The Lottery Ticket."

To-night the tragedy of "Fazio," with Mrs. Julia Dean Hayne as Bianca, and Mr. G. B. Waldron as Fazio, will be presented, followed by "Love in Humble Life."

Real Estate Sale.—A. B. Richardson will sell lot 2 in block 51, Third street, to-morrow morning, at his sales room. This valuable property has on it a comfortable cottage, and a good well of water. To any one wanting a home this chance to buy should not be overlooked.

Mr. Charles Barrett received a large stock of States and other papers last night, and the this office was favored with a liberal supply. Mr. Barrett has out thanks.

How the South Gets Soldiers.—A correspondent of the Chicago Tribune tells the following in regard to a Tennessee regiment, which was at Corinth under Beauregard over a year ago. "It had been enlisted under the first call for rebel troops for one year. When their term of enlistment had nearly expired, the men were applied to separately and individually, by rebel officers from the East, to re-enlist 'for three years or the war.' Not only was their refusal unanimous, but they collected in squads to talk the matter over and [illegible] ist in the determination to go home. Shortly after this regiment was paraded without arms. Beauregard himself was on the field, and they were surrounded on three sides by two other regiments and a battery of artillery. The two regiments (one on each side) had their rifles loaded, bayonets fixed, and [illegible] 'ready.' On the third side was the battery of artillery, opposite to that nothing but space and eternity, into which they were to be blown, wholesale, in case of any simultaneous dissent to proposals that were to be made. In this position each man of the regiment was called out separately and given the option of re-enlisting for the war or being shot. [illegible] ing the moral support of numbers, each man chose enlistment rather than death. Until this choice was presented to the last man of the regiment, he refused to re-enlist; said he had been deceived in the beginning, but that having once enlisted he had served out faithfully his allotted time; his engagement was at an end; his family were destitute, and he had not seen them nor scarcely heard from them for twelve months, and he must go home. He was given twelve hours to think over the matter. At the end of that time, still refusing to re-enlist, he was taken out and shot by Beauregard's order."

Sorry for it.—The Richmond Examiner notices that Gov. Aiken of South Carolina is in prison at Richmond, and says he remains at his home, and "is as much for the Southern cause as any man in the Confederacy." We are sorry if this is so, for it will be bad now that Mr. Pettigrew is dead, there would not be one loyal man in South Carolina. In that case, if we adopt the rule that loyal men, more or less constitute the State, there would be no South Carolina.—Postscript.

Attention, Portland Guards!—Your Company will meet for Drill at the Armory this evening, Tuesday, October 20th, at 7½ o'clock. By order,
H. L. HERMAN, Orderly.

The ladies of the Oregon Sanitary Aid Society will give a reception in the vestry of the new Presbyterian Church, in this city, Tuesday evening, Oct. 20th. The evening will be enlivened by short addresses, music, &c. A collation will also be spread for those who wish to partake of it. Admittance, 50 cents. Supper, 50 cents.

Billous Fever cured.

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio, April 1, 1859.

MESSRS. A. L. SCOVILL & Co:—I have been, for years subject to attacks of BILIOUS FEVER; and sometimes I have been laid up for months, and my system left in a feeble state by the use of strong medicine, which was given to me by my physician.

I have been using DR. MOTT'S LIVER PILLS for some time. I find that I can break these attacks in a day or so, and escape entirely the fever. My daughter had an attack of DYSPEPSIA, which distressed her much; she could not eat scarcely anything without becoming nauseated at her stomach continually. Some time since she got and has been using DR. MOTT'S LIVER PILLS, and she now is like another being. I have found also that they are the most valuable Pills for breaking up Colds, Headache, Pains in the Side and Back. I would not be without them in my family.

☞ In Every Age of the World, the professions have been slow to admit the value of new discoveries, or the expediency of adopting them in practice. It is not to the legal profession that we look for reforms in jurisprudence, neither do we find the advocates of medical reform among physicians. Each deprecates whatever is found to innovate upon received opinions and established usage. Hence the opposition which medical men too often exhibit to the use of private remedies, whatever their acknowledged value, or great efficiency in the cure of disease. No medicine has ever done more for the relief of human suffering than DR. OSGOOD'S INDIA CHOLAGOGUE. The certainty with which it cures Fever and Ague, and eradicates bile from the system is acknowledged by all. Do you prefer a speedy and effectual cure to a regular and scientific run of disease? Try the Cholagogue, and the object is accomplished. Then tell your suffering neighbor what it has done for you, that it may do the same for him.

Frese's Hamburg Tea and Hamburg Plaster.—Frese's Hamburg Tea is a curative and preventive of Coughs, Severe Colds, Fever and Ague, Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, and all complaints arising from impurities of the blood. It cures Headache, Bowel, Kidney and Liver complaints, cleansing and purifying the stomach and blood. It is a preventive against Contagion, and its timely use will avert almost any sickness. It restores the appetite, and is most pleasant and palatable to take. Being purely vegetable, it can with entire safety be given to children. One trial will convince any one of its excellent quality, and once used, no family will do without it.

To guard against counterfeits, observe the seal of FRESE & CO, Hamburg, on every genuine package. Frese's Hamburg Tea is the only genuine article. Copyright secured.

Diarrhœa and Pain in the Bowels Cured.

CARTHAGE, O., Nov. 25, 1853.

DR. O. R. BAKER—Much Esteemed Friend: I have had a severe attack of Diarrhœa, attended with griping pains, and was reduced very low. I tried many different medicines, but all to no purpose, until I got a bottle of your PAIN PANACEA, and commenced its use. The first dose put a quietus on the griping pains, and I had not used two twenty-five cent bottles before I was entirely cured. I also recommended it to a friend, who was attacked with cramp colic, and suffering with excruciating pains, and three doses entirely cured him.

Demoralization and Disaffection of the Rebel Army

REMARKABLE DEVELOPMENTS CONCERNING AFFAIRS IN NORTH GEORGIA

STEVENSON (Ala) August 29

Two days ago it was my fortune to meet at the house of a Union citizen of Franklin C[illegible] Tennessee a citizen of Georgia I cannot communicate all the information I received from this old man Rich and varied as it was it is my intention to mention only such as referred to the subject in hand I asked him if it were really true that there were many deserters from the rebel army among the mountains of North Georgia and told him of the reports I had heard concerning them

"You have not heard half the truth," said he, "There is not in all North Georgia a cave, a dense forest or a rock of difficult access, where these men may not be found, My own county is full of them and so also are White, Dawson and Pickens, especially the latter In the vicinity of Prince Edward and St[illegible]ck Hill, a large number of refugee conscripts and deserters are banded together The rebel authorities made some vigorous efforts at first to break up and capture this band, but so formidable in numbers are they, and so inaccessible are the mountains among which they operate, that every attempt to dislodge them has proved a failure, and the rebel government now virtually leaves them to themselves

Since the retreat of Bragg from Tullahoma their numbers have largely increased, and before I left they were in the habit of coming down boldly from the mountains in the towns and purchasing (and in some instances taking without purchasing) what they wanted and then returning to their haunts no one offering to molest them Indeed, the people of North Georgia are, in certain sections, governed by them They are kind and clever to Union citizens, but hate implacably every avowed rebel, and visit with speedy vengeance every one whom they suspect of giving information against them "

"Perhaps," said I, "these men are mere freebooters, who, too cowardly to serve in the army, and too lazy to labor, have banded together for the purpose of plundering their fellow citizens "

"No," he replied "it would be unjust to say that of them Their mode of life is, I admit, having a bad effect upon their characters, and it may be that many of them are gradually becoming what you say But it was not so at first I know men amongst them who all their lives were quiet honest, peaceful, industrious citizens up to the day when they joined the rebel army some of them voluntarily others involuntarily, or received notice that they had been conscripted Amongst the former (the deserters) are some men of abundant means who lead this life merely to avoid being forced back into the rebel ranks The conscripts who fled to the mountains were, in a majority of cases, poor men, but all of good character, all without a blot upon their honesty, all hard working, sober citizens "

"Are these men mostly in favor of the Union?" I inquired,

"All are now," was the answer 'because all look to the triumph of the Union arms to assure them of their safety, and restore them again to friends and home Amongst the deserters however, are some who were bitter secessionists from the start, and were amongst the first to volunteer in the rebel army

"And do you think these men are sincere Unionists now?" I asked

"No," was the remarkable reply, "they doubtless love the Union now no better than they did at first, but so terrible have been their sufferings in their attempts to overthrow it, that hereafter no men will be more fiercely hostile to secession than they "

"Were most of the deserters to whom you refer, originally enlisted in North Georgia?"

"I cannot say that most of them were," he answered "They are from every Southern State I knew of an entire company from an Alabama regiment who are now staying in the mountains, and one at least of their Lieutenants is with them Hundreds are there also from Tennessee, and even South Carolina has contributed to swell the number Notwithstanding this," he continued, "it is still thought that from some of the neighborhoods in Georgia, almost every man who went into the rebel service and has not perished on the field or in the hospital, had deserted, and is now safe among the mountains "

"How many do you suppose there are altogether of these deserters in North Georgia?" was my next question

"I cannot say for all this section," was the old man's reply "I am not much acquainted with affairs outside the three counties Lumpkin, Dawson and Pickens, but in these I should judge the number would not fall far short of five thousand "

"Are they armed?" I asked

"There is perhaps not one of them who has not a gun of some kind," said the old man, "but their weapons are of every description, from the deadly rifles which they brought with them when they left the army, down to the shot guns which they picked up on the way, or which some friends secretly furnished them "

Scores of facts bearing upon this subject are in my possession, only a few of which I have time to glance at Since our troops have been at Bridgeport the number of deserters arriving at that one point alone have averaged six per day Not long since I heard one man of a party of eleven who had deserted from a single company in a Louisiana regiment declare that there were secret associations among the rebel soldiers for aiding others to desert that thousands in Bragg's army thought of nothing else save watching for an opportunity to escape that the number leaving must sometimes be as high as two or three hundred in a single day, and that Racoon and Lookout Mountains are now swarming with these absentees

A Georgian who was a Vicksburg paroled prisoner, and had received a furlough to go home declared that not a man in his company intended to return except the orderly sergeant A Tennessean stated upon a[illegible] other occasion, that when he took French leave of his company there were but seven men remaining in it a number having been killed in battle, and more than forty having deserted The Louisianian referred to [illegible] said that of his regiment less than a hundred men remain A Kentuckian stated that ever since they heard of John Morgan's capture the men from his State were in utter despair and only wanted a signal from their officers to break out in open mutiny against the rebel authorities —Cor Cincinnati Gazette

A NATURAL EXPLANATION —Speaking of soldiers the other day we heard a gentleman remark that the world never produced an army equal in intelligence to that now fighting for the preservation of our Government and he accounted for it in this way All those men who are unable to read and write are Copperheads and remained at home to vote the "Dimmycratic" We are inclined to the opinion that the explanation is nearly correct —San Juan Press

OPENING LETTERS —A Massachusetts Judge has decided that a husband may open his wife's letters on the ground so often and tersely stated by Theophilus Parsons of Cambridge, "that the husband and the wife are one, and that the husband is that one!"

WE HOPE SO —The Troy (N Y) Whig ventures to ask the question if the initials "N P" to General Banks' name may not stand for Next President?

Horror of Disease	Wakefulness
Dimness of Vision	Pain in the Back
Universal Lassitude of the	Muscular System,
Hot Hands,	Flushing of the Body
Dryness of the Skin	Eruptions on the Face,
	Pallid Countenance

These symptoms if allowed to go on which this medicine invariably removes soon follows

Impotency, Fatuity, Epileptic Fits,
IN ONE OF WHICH THE PATIENT MAY EXPIRE

Who can say that they are not frequently followed by those direful diseases,

"INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION,"

Many are aware of the cause of their suffering BUT NONE WILL CONFESS

THE RECORDS OF THE INSANE ASYLUMS,

And the melancholy deaths by Consumption bear ample witness to the truth of the assertion that

THE CONSTITUTION,
once affected by Organic Weakness
Requires the Aid of Medicine, to strengthen and invigorate the system, which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does
A Trial will Convince the most Skeptical.

Hoofland's German Bitters

Are not a new [illegible] but have stood the test of fifteen years trial by the American public [illegible]

The proprietors have thousands of letters from the most eminent

CLERGYMEN
PHYSICIANS and CITIZENS

Testifying of their own personal knowledge to the beneficial effects and medical virtues of these Bitters.

Do you want something to strengthen you?
Do you want a good appetite?
Do you want to build up your constitution?
Do you want to feel well?
Do you want to get rid of nervousness?
Do you want energy?
Do you want to sleep well?
Do you want a brisk and vigorous feeling?
If so use HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS

From Rev J Newton Brown D D Editor of the Encyclopedia of Religious Knowledge.

Although not disposed to favor or recommend Medicines in general through distrust of their ingredients and effects [illegible] received from any simple preparation in the hope [illegible] of others.

I do this the more readily in regard to Hoofland's German Bitters prepared by Dr C M Jackson, of this city because I was prejudiced against them for many years under the impression that they were chiefly an alcoholic mixture I am indebted to my friend Robert Shoemaker Esq for the removal of this prejudice by proper tests and for encouragement to try them when suffering from great and long continued debility The use of three bottles of these Bitters at the beginning of the present year was followed by evident relief and restoration to a degree of bodily and mental vigor which I had not felt for six months before and had almost despaired of regaining. I therefore thank God and my friend for directing me to the use of them

PARTICULAR NOTICE.

There are many preparations [illegible]

[illegible]

For those who desire and will have a Liquor Bitters, we publish the following receipt Get One Bottle Hoofland's German Bitters and mix with Three Quarts of Good Brandy or Whisky, and the result will be a preparation that will far excel [illegible] and true excellence [illegible] ters in the market and will cost much less. You have all the virtues of Hoofland's Bitters in connection with a good article of [illegible] than these inferior preparations will cost you.

ATTENTION, SOLDIERS!
AND THE FRIENDS OF SOLDIERS

We call the attention of all having relations or friends in the army to the fact that HOOFLAND'S German Bitters will cure nine-tenths of the diseases induced by exposures and privations incident to camp life. In the lists published almost daily in the newspapers, on the arrival of the sick it will be noticed that a very large proportion are suffering from debility Every case of that kind can be readily cured by Hoofland's German Bitters. Diseases resulting from disorders of the digestive organs are speedily removed We have no hesitation in stating that, if these Bitters were freely used among our soldiers, hundreds of lives might be saved that otherwise will be lost.

We call particular attention to the following remarkable and well authenticated cure of one of the nation's heroes, whose life to use his own language "has been saved by the Bitters"

PHILADELPHIA, August 23

Messrs Jones & Evans—Well gentlemen, your Hoofland's German Bitters has saved my life. There is no mistake in this [illegible]

[illegible]

We fully concur in the truth of the above statement as we had despaired of seeing our comrade Mr Malone restored to health
